The War Today...

By DeWitt MacKenzie
AP War Analyst

BRITISH PRIME MINISTER CHURCHILL'S surprise move in challenging his house of commons to give him a blanket vote of confidence for his war and post-war policies, after he had been defeated on a purely domestic issue, is typical of this square-jawed individualist—whole hog or nothing!

The premier apparently caught his opponents off guard, for certainly many of those who voted against the government on an educational measure giving women teachers the same pay as men weren't registering lack of confidence in his general policies. Indeed they made it clear that they wished to dissociate the domestic matter from the broader issues, but he hunched his expansive shoulders and called for a showdown.

Churchill's reason for this move undoubtedly was that there has been a growing volume of adverse criticism leveled at his government. He devoted part of his speech last Sunday to rebuking critics for rocking the political boat in war time. Part of the criticism has concerned domestic affairs. However, it appears to me to have been due largely to lack of public information regarding international policies, affecting Britain in particular and the United Nations in general.

You will see what I mean if you will stop and check on the amount of concrete, official information you yourself have regarding the political decisions, or lack of decisions, at any of the big Allied conferences. It's mighty meagre. Well now, the Allied publics are asking just what the relations are among the Big Three—Britain, America and Russia—and how those relations are affecting the military and political trend.

The nearer we get to the end of the European war, the greater the problems become. And they may not be natural war time problems, but the solution depend the political complexion of the world and the maintenance of peace?

MANY OF THE ANXIETIES are inspired by lack of knowledge regarding Russia's post-war aims. She is emerging as a new force. The main thing we know is that she will be the dominant power of the whole eastern hemisphere—both continental Europe and Asia. What we don't know is how she will use her vast influence. That doesn't necessarily mean that the peoples of the other Allies distrust Moscow, but merely that they don't know how things are developing.

Not to sidestep any issues, apparently relations between Uncle Sam and John Bull also are a matter of concern to our overseas friends. Only yesterday Foreign Secretary Eden was asked in commons by La-

BOUGAINVILLE IAPS DOOMED

Gen. Beightler, Commander of Ohio's 37th, Gives Enemy 10 More Days

(By Associated Press)
BOUGAINVILLE, In The Solomon Islands, March 28—(Delayed)—Maj. Gen. Robert S. Beightler of the 37th division, said today he "could not believe" of the Japanese on Bougainville lasting more than 10 days longer.

"I think conservatively 5,000 have been killed by the 37th—half of that number inside our wire," Gen. Beightler said. "His losses were at the ratio of 30 to one of ours. They're already impotent as a fighting force. I can't conceive of the Japs lasting more than 10 days longer on Bougainville."

"A number of Jap bodies had fresh bandages. There have been a great many wounded, but he throws them right back in—anyone with two legs and one arm. He's determined and desperate. However, I think he'll strike again as soon as he has reorganized. Loss of life means nothing to him but glory."

Maj. Gen. John R. Rodge, of Carbondale, Ill., commander of the American 4th division, said two days ago he believed the Japs still had 20,000 troops plus strong labor battalions. Gen. Beightler did not estimate the number.

Gen. Beightler said the enemy followed anticipated offensive moves, but that his artillery strength was greater than had been expected. He said this now has been reduced to some few 75's and 90's.

"He's badly hurt," the 37th's leader said, "and his infantry has been reduced to 40, his artillery to 25 per cent. The high point of the whole offensive came on Hill 700."

4-F INDUCTION LAST RESORT, STIMSON SAYS

National Service Legislation Backer Admits Need In War Effort

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 30.—Secretary of War Stimson said today it was essential to draw 4-F men into the war effort, but that he would accept their induction into the Army as a labor corps only as a last resort.

Questioned at his press conference about the statement of Undersecretary of War Robert P. Patterson, that the Army would accept induction of 4-F's who refused to voluntarily enter employment in essential activities, Stimson replied he agreed fully that the war effort is suffering by failure to utilize this group of men.

But he added:

"I do not think that this most vital step should be taken by induction and by induction into the Army of men not qualified to serve in the Army."

The secretary emphasized "very strongly" his belief that national service legislation was the best solution of the manpower problem, but that in any case Congress should deal with the matter in new legislation, not requiring the Army to induct physically unqualified men for assignment to war jobs as a labor battalion.

Decision Up to Congress

"I don't feel like that at all," said Stimson. "But, as I said, the final decision is in the hands of Congress."

Stimson's comment came on the heels of indications on Capitol Hill that something like a million 4-F's between the ages of 18 and 37, inclusive, may soon be given the choice of taking essential jobs or being inducted into some type of labor battalions, either army or civilian.

The war secretary reported the Army's manpower objective of 7,700,000 has not been changed, but the fact that the Army is still approximately 200,000 short of this goal and that Selective Service has not produced enough new men on schedule, has forced shifts of army personnel.

These shifts included transfer of 36,000 men from the air force to the ground and service forces, reduction of the army college program, substitution of civilians for soldiers in some activities in the United States, and reduction of a number of Army activities in this country.

Meanwhile, methods for using 4-F's continued to get prime attention in the capitol.

CHARLES LIPPIATT IS KILLED AT MINE

Brookwood Miner Crushed By Car; Funeral Services On Saturday

Charles A. Lippiatt, 33, of R. D. 5, Salem, was fatally injured when he was crushed in an accident at the Brookwood coal mine on the Albany road, north of Salem, at noon yesterday.

Fellow workmen said he was pinned by a mine car, the lower part of his body being crushed. Internal hemorrhages caused his death later in Salem City hospital.

His father, Jacob Lippiatt, and a brother, also employed at the mine, helped to remove him after the accident. Coroner Arnold Devon returned an accidental death verdict.

The victim, born in Green township Jan. 11, 1911, had been a life resident of the district. He had worked at the mine for 10 years.

He is survived by his wife, Valda Moore Lippiatt; three daughters, Katherine, Ruth Ann and Fay; two sons, Fred and Charles, Jr.; his parents, Jacob and Eleanor Lippiatt; four brothers, Robert of Washington, D. C., Melvin, Joseph and Glenn of Salem, and three sisters, Mrs. Philip Stevens, Miss Dorothy Lippiatt and Donna Jean, all of Salem.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p. m. Saturday at the Arbaugh-Pearce funeral home in charge of Rev. Walter Bailey, pastor of the Millville Union church. Burial will be in Grandview cemetery.

Friends may call tomorrow evening at the funeral home.

Claim Hawaii Still Is Open to Attack

(By Associated Press)
U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, Pearl Harbor, March 30.—Adm. Chester W. Nimitz and Lt. Gen. Robert C. Richardson jointly declared in affidavits filed in Federal district court yesterday that the Territory of Hawaii "now is in imminent danger of invasion" by Japanese armed forces and has been in such danger since the attack on Pearl Harbor Dec. 7, 1941.

The affidavits were filed with their answer to a habeas corpus case challenging the necessity and validity of continuing martial law in Hawaii.

Nimitz is commander-in-chief of the Pacific ocean areas. Richardson commands United States Army forces in the Central Pacific and is military governor of Hawaii.

Nazis Recruit Little Girls, Grandmothers For War Jobs

By WADE WERNER
LISBON, March 30.—Little girls and grandmothers are being recruited by the Nazis to overcome new manpower problems created by the destruction of thousands of factories by Allied planes.

A special appeal, German newspapers disclose, is being made to women over 45 in a campaign to get women volunteers to replace hundreds of thousands of male workers diverted from war production to emergency reconstruction, repair and relocation tasks.

They have been assured consideration will be given to family problems and that part time work will be acceptable.

Articles in the Nazi press hope-fully point to the "great reservoir" of part time workers among elderly women, and also disclose that girls too young for regular jobs can effectively be used part time in some branches of industry.

One newspaper describes opera-

Stopped Now, Stimson Says

Cassino Sequel Yet To Come

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 30.—Secretary of War Stimson, discussing the situation at Cassino, said today "the simple fact is that the Germans stopped us."

He told a press conference the Allied attack on the Italian fortress town "has subsided for the time being without achieving the results for which we had hoped."

The Germans, Stimson said, showed again "that they are obstinate and effective soldiers who do not quit when they are ordered to hold a key post at all cost."

"Their occupation of the steep hills where their guns covered the town gave the Nazis a continual advantage," Stimson said. "The bomb and shell destruction which our planes and guns wrought in Cassino did not prevent a garrison defense by those who survived our explosives and by other enemy troops who filtered in to join them."

"The rubble was good cover and the tunnels or caves in the adjoining hills gave shelter and ease of movement. The rains immediately after the plane and gun barrage made a morass of the open ground around the town and limited the use of our tanks, while slowing the advance of troops climbing the hills under fire."

3,000 YANKS MARCH IN BRITAIN PARADE

LONDON, March 30.—Three thousand American soldiers and WACS staged the biggest parade they ever put on in London in a mile and one-half procession today as the feature of the U. S. Forces day of the Salute-The-Soldier week—Britain's fourth big War savings campaign.

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, in a proclamation issued as part of the ceremonies, called on the United Nations to "live and work together regardless of race or nationality, creed or service, uniform or rank."

"We must fight on relentlessly, side by side, so that we will win together a better world, secure and free for all men everywhere," Eisenhower said.

Zarief Quads, New York City's First, Reported Doing Nicely

NEW YORK, March 30.—The very important obstetrician of the Zarief quadruplets, born prematurely yesterday, had their first formula-feeding today.

A bulletin issued by Sloane Hospital for Women revealed the three girls and one boy—probably the first quadruplets in New York City's history—slept well and were given sugar and water during the night. Their first feeding was at 9 a. m.

Mrs. Eleanor Zarief, 27, their mother also rested comfortably, the hospital said.

The infants, described by attendants as "nice active babies," occupied air-conditioned, oxygenated cribs in Sloane's nursery.

The multiple birth, to Harry Zarief, violinist, and his wife, had been anticipated and planned for. Mrs. Zarief was informed she probably would have quadruplets after X-rays were taken last December.

The four infants were born in the hospital's delivery clinic yesterday morning—a month prematurely—with an audience which included

Nazis Admit Evacuation of Capital City

(By Associated Press)
LONDON, March 30.—Czernowitz, capital of Bucovina and gateway to the Balkans, has fallen to the Red army's advance, Premier Stalin announced tonight a few hours after Berlin acknowledged German evacuation of the strategic city.

Russian forces had broken into this third largest city of pre-war Rumania from the north and west after forcing the Prut river.

The city, which lies 17 miles north of present-day Rumania, is astride the rail line extending northwest to Lwow, in old Poland, and south to Iasi (Jassy), Galatz on the Danube, and the oil center of Ploesti.

Its capture cut the Germans off from their supply bases in pre-war Poland and split the southern German armies off from those of the central and eastern Ukrainian front.

Stalin's announcement said the city had been captured "by storm"—a statement denying the German announcement it had been "evacuated." He termed it an "important economic and political center of northern Bucovina and a powerful strong point of German defenses on the River Prut covering the approaches to the frontiers of Hungary and Rumania."

The early German announcement had admitted also that "German troops disengaged themselves" from the lower Ukrainian Bug, on the eastern approaches to Odessa, but as usual claimed this was done without enemy interference.

Drive Toward Czech Border

Other Russian forces were driving through the Carpathian foothills toward the northern frontier of Czechoslovakia, following capture of Kolomea, Prut river town on the main Berlin-Lwow-Bucharest railway 45 miles northeast of Czernowitz.

Indicating another Russian threat to Lwow in old Poland, the Berlin broadcast said heavy fighting was under way in the area of Stanislaw, about 70 miles below Lwow and only 40 miles from the old border of Czechoslovakia on the Lwow-Bucharest rail line.

Berlin said the Russians were throwing 15 rifle divisions and three tanks corps, upwards of 175,000 men, into the battle for the White Russian pathways to the Baltics in new smashes at the 100-mile German arc between Vitebsk and Chaussy. It said the new offensive had been unable to gain ground.

BURMA BATTLE GROWS SEVERE

Gen. Stilwell's Troops Kill 2,500 Japs; Trap Other Enemy Troops

(By Associated Press)
Lt. Gen. Joseph Stilwell's American-Chinese forces have killed some 2,500 Japanese troops opposing the Allied drive toward Myitkyna, prime enemy base which stands between the new Lado supply route and the Burma road.

Elsewhere in the Burma battle the fighting grew in violence.

Stilwell's Chinese fighters in addition trapped 1,000 Japanese troops north of Shaduzup, above Myitkyna.

Allied troops inflicted heavy casualties on a Japanese force driving up the Tiddim road toward Imphal, important communication center about 15 miles inside India.

A second threat to Imphal was countered with a concentrated blasting by planes and artillery of a Japanese column caught in the open while driving on that city from the north. The column reeled backward with heavy losses.

Air Power Mounts

Adm. Lord Louis Mountbatten, New Delhi headquarters, reporting these successes, pointed out the increasing role of air power in this theater. Allied planes have bombed and strafed Japanese positions in India and have helped clear a way for Stilwell's two-pronged advance.

The Chinese troops laid their trap by cutting in behind enemy troops who couldn't be budged frontally. They were reported closing the trap with all haste, hoping to capture as much Japanese artillery as possible. The work of the Chinese was a fruit of long, patient advance.

Papers, Old Books And Magazines To Be Collected Soon

Hundreds of old books and magazines lying unused in Salem homes and offices are urgently needed now as raw material for thousands of essential items of war. It was announced today by A. V. Smith, local salvage chairman.

"Waste paper is the nation's most critical war material," Smith said. "It is as important as powder since more than 700,000 military items are either made of waste paper products or are paper-wrapped for shipment overseas."

"The increasingly critical and dangerous waste paper shortage would be relieved immeasurably if we threw into the fight all of the useless old books and magazines, of no interest to servicemen, now gathering dust on our bookshelves or lying untouched in our attics, closets and cellars."

Smith said since the average book weighs about a pound, one unused book will make two containers for life-saving blood plasma, six cartons for the U. S. Army emergency "K" rations, ten paperboard boxes for 50 cal. bullets, 30 containers for lifeboat inflation cartridges or scores of other military items.

Waste paper collections will be made in Salem next weekend.

Firemen Halt Blaze In Shed Adjoining Garage

A fire in a storage shed adjoining the garage at the home of Robert Engert, 271 W. Eighth st., kept firemen busy from 7:42 p. m. until 9:58 p. m. yesterday.

The blaze was discovered by neighbors in the shed used to store lumber, building materials and other articles. The family was away from home at the time.

One end of the garage was damaged.

Firemen said that the blaze starting in the stored lumber gained headway rapidly because of the open sides, roared out from under the low roof and made a bright glow in the sky which attracted much attention.

THE GREATER DANGER AT CASSINO

Greater than the danger of military stalemate at Cassino is the possibility of Allied prestige being ramshackle there at too great a cost. President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill may be tempted to relieve the pressure of public opinion by breaking the deadlock with a Pyrrhic victory.

History points up this specific danger, because it was in a drive on Rome from southern Italy in 281 B. C. that King Pyrrhus won the victory over the Romans whose exorbitant cost gave the world the expression, Pyrrhic victory. Cassino is not worth a repetition. In neither the military nor the political sense is it to be compared with Stalingrad, for instance, where victory at any price was a bargain for the Russians.

The possibility of the Germans doing more than creating a stalemate at Cassino has not been mentioned so far; they are keeping the Allies from going forward but there seems no question of Allied ability to keep them from regaining the territory they lost south of Cassino. It is the political, not the military, situation which threatens to get out of control. To the extent that speculation on Allied strategy seems to demand an effort to sweep past Cassino at any price, the speculation, itself, is dangerous.

The main business of the Allies is Germany's defeat, and Cassino has relatively little bearing on that. Hitler cannot salvage his war by proving that the Allied campaign in Italy was not staged on a scale great enough to dislodge a determined German defense. The loss of Allied prestige is unfortunate, but it cannot be called catastrophic.

HANDS OFF, WITH SOME EXCEPTIONS

Gen. Charles de Gaulle's advice to the consultative assembly in Algiers to ignore all foreign plans for a post-invasion regime packs the French political issue in a nutshell. But there is more than the political issue involved. The general's hands-off policy is only wishful thinking until the armies of other nations have redeemed France.

It is probable that Frenchmen will not welcome a hands-off policy for all aspects of the post-invasion regime. They will not care, for instance, to be dependent only on Gen. de Gaulle and other political leaders for food, clothing and the numerous details of economic rehabilitation. France needs help more than it needs politics.

It is further probable that if Frenchmen did not know that Allied strategy for Germany's defeat calls for liberation of France, they would be keenly interested in almost any alternative to the Nazi political regime under which they are marking time. Gen. de Gaulle's political power is contingent on the clearing of French soil by the same governments he is warning to hold their distance if they succeed in doing the job.

Gen. de Gaulle, as a politician, has considerably less to do with the future of France than several million young men of assorted political persuasions who are prepared to risk and spend their lives to drive Germans out of the country. Ordinary fact at the present moment would have dictated something more pleasant for their ears than his outburst in Algiers.

CAUGHT IN THE CROSSFIRE

The feud between commentators and congressmen, being a sort of national institution like the bloodier but less systematic wars in the Kentucky hills, adds confusion to the public exchange of recriminations between Walter Winchell and certain congressmen engaged in reprisals for his special brand of tongue-lashing.

The thing that makes this feud different is the fact the public is caught in the crossfire. Winchell, by implication, has attacked congress as well as congressmen. His curious explanation that he is doing this under official auspices has the effect of making Winchell, himself, unimportant. The question has become the identity of his backers, if he really has them. Congress is capable of finding out and should do so, whatever Winchell says.

If he has no official backers—if he turns out to be just a master of the technique of gossip columnizing which he made a vogue—then it's nothing more serious than another clash of viewpoints to be settled in the tradition of American free speech, with the people, themselves, making the ultimate decision between right and wrong. We refuse to believe that Winchell can overthrow congress on his own steam, or even that he can do any damage to individual congressmen who don't deserve it.

POTENTIALITIES OF THE 4-F'S

The time lag between suggestion and decision on manpower problems has been consistently so dragged out that Manpower Chief McNutt's proposal for inducting 4-F's raises only a remote possibility of action. The idea has obvious merit, nevertheless.

As the manpower chief explained it to the subcommittee of the house military affairs committee investigating draft deferments, classified physically unfit for military duty would be subject to induction, unless entitled to occupational deferments as essential workers. Those inducted then would be directed to essential civilian employment. If they failed to meet requirements, they then would be subject to recall to active military service as non-combatants. No new legislation would be required to do this, because the 4-F's already are subject to service and have been released only because of physical defects.

In effect, the plan would do for the manpower shortage in war production what the United States would do for a military manpower shortage if the need became acute. It would utilize the physically defective in the war effort, a step which Germany, for instance, has taken in the case of combat troops. A similar possibility exists in the case of discharged veterans and men now over 38, but the great potentialities lie with the 4-F's, who exist in a total of some seven million present and prospective members. It is a modification of the national service idea, applied to a specific group.

HOUSEWIFE POWER

The drive to enlist women in the army of war production is aimed specifically at housewives, the remaining major source of womanpower in labor-critical areas. To the extent that the drive is successful, in other words, it will entail radical adjustments in living routines, ranging all the way from better facilities for taking care of children to the sacrifice of leisure by women who list it as their most important consideration. It cannot be successful, moreover, if it appeals only to women who need extra wages. It must enlist a large number of women willing to make a sacrifice of convenience for the sake of doing work that needs to be done. It is more than an appeal for workers; it is an appeal for an extra surge of patriotic endeavor to bring the national war effort to a climax.

There used to be a famous enlistment poster—Uncle Sam Wants You. That is the idea behind the drive to enlist womanpower. It is You, the woman who may be reading this, that is wanted. If the demand could be satisfied by women already at work, there would be no need for a special drive to put women at work who, up to this time, haven't been at work.

Aspects of Vision In Young and Old

BY LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
POOR VISION is a problem that has different aspects in the young from that which it has in older people.

Poor vision in children is due, in nearly all cases, to poor mechanical construction of the eye—short-sightedness and far-sightedness—which depend on improper length of the eyeball or astigmatism, which is improper curvature of the cornea.

These mechanical defects do not cause any disability until the child begins intensive use of the eyes—until it begins school. An astigmatic, or short-sighted, eye does very well for walking and running around, playing with toys, etc. And the child, never being conscious of any disability, may be utterly confused when it is called upon to read and can make no sense out of the printed page. Never having experienced any visual difficulty before, it cannot analyze the reason for not being able to keep up with it. It is called upon to read, and can make no sense out of the printed page.

Child's Sight Defects

It is a common experience for an oculist to have such a child brought to him and on asking it to read the letters on a test chart, which would require a visual ability of only 5 per cent of normal, to have the child exclaim: "I don't see any letters at all."

It doesn't mean the child is going blind or is partially blind, merely near-sighted.

Poor vision in the old, or middle aged, however, never has this kind of approach. The middle aged man knows his vision is failing because he has a standard of an active life with good vision to compare it by. Of course in the middle aged not one case in a thousand is due to anything but the natural loss of elasticity of the lens—presbyopia—which glasses will remedy.

But that one-in-a-thousandth case may be cataract or glaucoma. Glaucoma is an increase in the pressure inside the eyeball. If not relieved the pressure may destroy the optic nerve. This can be prevented in over 90 per cent of cases if it is discovered early enough.

Glaucoma practically always attacks both eyes and usually strikes people over 40. Glaucoma sometimes causes pain in the eyes, but rarely. Those who have pain from their glaucoma are lucky because it takes them to the oculist. Most have slight indications of failing vision. Do you have to change your glasses regularly? Do you have slight dimming of vision? Do your eyes or head ache after a prolonged stay in the dark? Do you see halos around street lights? These

At first sign of A COLD
666 TABLETS, SALVE, NOSE DROPS

things do not necessarily mean glaucoma, but they may.

If you go to your oculist regularly after forty he will test the pressure of your eyeballs as part of a routine examination and this warns you in time.

The danger to the middle-aged person with failing vision is that he is likely to try some fool procedure that avoids treatment by an oculist. I have a letter from someone who wanted to know if killing a chicken and putting the warm entrails on the eye would cure cataract. But this is no more than the exercises advocated by Mr. Julian Huxley. I saw a man the other day who had some blinding from glaucoma because he was convinced little, silly eye exercises would prevent it.

"Ahead of Schedule"

An AAF Report on the Aviation Cadet Program

Thanks to the young men of America, the AAF is seizing air supremacy in every theatre, faster than we ever planned or even dared to hope.

Thanks to youth's eagerness to serve, the AAF has grown in a remarkably short time from a mere handful of men into the largest, most powerful air force in the world.

Thanks to the fitness and alertness of these young men, they have learned their job so quickly that we have been able to throw our great airplane production into effective combat quicker than we believed possible. Due to their daring and skill we are destroying the enemy with less loss to our own forces than we anticipated.

All air crew men must have the irresistible desire to fly. Every such flying man in the AAF is there on his own initiative . . . in response to our invitation to fly and fight with "The Greatest Team in the World." Hundreds of thousands have thronged to our Aviation Cadet Examining Boards in response to this appeal. Thousands are continuing to volunteer . . . for active duty . . . and for the 17-year-old Air Corps Enlisted Reserve.

Our gratitude to the young men of America, and to their parents, friends and associates . . . is without bounds. We should like to welcome on our team any qualified young man who wishes to join. But there are other considerations . . . a balanced attack must be maintained.

Since last July the Selective Service process had not yielded enough men for all phases of the military program. Other branches of the army urgently need men for currently pending operations.

The AAF is ahead of schedule. It has sufficient men in training, and in the Air Corps Enlisted Reserve to meet its present schedule for combat crews. It must therefore balance this activity with immediate over-all needs.

As General Marshall has announced, the AAF has returned to their former commands some 36,000 men who had recently volunteered for air crew training from the ground and service forces. Moreover, until further notice, the AAF will not take any men into active duty from civilian life for air crew training. Also, further enrollment in the 17-year-old Air Corps Enlisted Reserve has been temporarily suspended.

The future of America depends upon the fitness of our young men. All of the armed services need young men who are physically fit, mentally alert and well educated for the exacting demands of modern war.

The AAF urges every man approaching military age to prepare himself physically and mentally for his possible contribution to the defeat of our enemies and for his responsibilities in the post-war world.

We suggest, among other things, the physical training and other preparatory courses of the High School Victory Corps which are recommended for the various armed services, and the physical and pre-aviation training given to CAP Cadets by the nation-wide organization of the Civil Air Patrol, an auxiliary of the Army Air Forces.

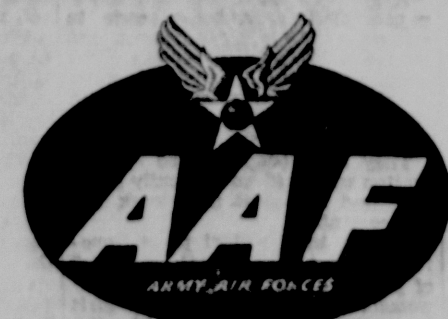

The AAF current training program will, of course, continue. All men now enrolled in the Air Corps Enlisted Reserve will start their training after they become 18 as originally planned. And we will soon again take young men of 17 into the Air Corps Enlisted Reserve.

Meanwhile, in recognition of the overwhelming public support given the AAF, we shall continue to report developments—so that when we invite further active enrollment on our flying team, the nation will be familiar with our activities and the vital nature of our needs.

9,463 Enemy Planes Destroyed by Yank Airmen During 1943

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 30.—The Army Air Forces destroyed 9,463 enemy planes in the air and 1,579 on the ground in 1943, Secretary of War Stimson reported today, while losing 2,809 in aerial combat and 76 on the ground.

This edge of nearly four to one, said the secretary, represented a tabulation of results from all theaters. As the scale of the offensive increased, he said, the air forces destroyed almost twice as many enemy planes in the last six months of the year as in the first half of 1943, and its own losses increased about 80 per cent in that period.

In a summary box score on victories and losses, Stimson presented these figures:

World total: 9,463 enemy planes destroyed, 2,743 probably destroyed, 3,402 damaged in air combat; 1,579 destroyed, 222 probably destroyed and 575 damaged on the ground; AAF losses—2,509 destroyed in the air, 76 on the ground.

Division Is Shown
United Kingdom: 3,332 enemy planes destroyed, 962 probably destroyed, 1,832 damaged in the air; no claims of enemy aircraft destroyed on the ground; AAF losses—899 in the air, none on the ground.

Mediterranean: 2,824 enemy planes destroyed, 789 probably destroyed, 960 damaged in the air; 814 destroyed, 113 probably destroyed and 397 damaged on the ground; AAF losses—1,307 in the air, 24 on the ground.

Southwest Pacific and China-Burma-India: 2,279 enemy planes destroyed, 820 probably destroyed, 459 damaged in the air; 742 destroyed, 103 probably destroyed, 147 damaged on the ground; AAF losses—420 in the air, 41 on the ground.

South Pacific, Hawaii and Alaska: 528 enemy planes destroyed, 172 probably destroyed, 151 damaged in the air; 23 destroyed, 6 probably destroyed, 31 damaged on the ground; AAF losses—183 in the air, 11 on the ground.

Discloses Germans Use Wooden Bullet

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., March 30.—A novel wooden bullet which infiltrated German forces fire at the backs of American soldiers has made its appearance in the fighting in Italy, wounded veterans at Percy Jones general hospital said today.

The bullet, they explained, has a range of between 100 and 200 yards, a distance sufficient to wound an adversary but not enough to carry back into German lines. They said it is made in the pattern of a regulation 30 calibre shell with a brass casing and a hard wood "like mahogany" pressed inside.

Sgt. Raymond J. Michael of Peoria, Ill., who was struck on the right arm by a German grenade while fighting four miles from Cassino, said the wooden bullets were used by the Germans at night. He explained:

"The Jerries would send a patrol back of our lines and then they'd open up on our rear with these wooden things. The range was short and they were sure with them that the bullets wouldn't go on past us and into the German lines."

Warren Industrialist Plays Ford Statement

WARREN, March 30.—Joseph W. Frazer, president of the Warren City Mfg. Co. and a former automobile executive, regards Henry Ford's recent prediction that the European war will end in 60 days as "unwise and damaging to the morale of American workers."

Addressing workers in the Warren plant, which produces landing craft and other naval armament, Frazer asked his employees to "not relax your efforts because of the untimely prediction on the length of the war made by Henry Ford and others whose views are equally unrealistic."

"Such predictions are breeding overconfidence and causing absenteeism at the most serious time in our nation's history," declared Frazer, former president of the Willys Overland Motor Co., and one-time vice president of the Chrysler Corp.

Frozen Foods Off Ration List Sunday

WASHINGTON, March 30.—The whole wide assortment of frozen fruits and vegetables will go on a ration-free basis beginning Sunday and the bargain point values now in effect for all kinds of meat will be continued through April.

All the cold storage space that can be found is urgently needed for meat, poultry and dairy products. The Office of Price Administration explained.

Technically the frozen foods—some of which were made point-free earlier—are still on the ration list, but stamps won't be required for them until further notice.

The April charts continue butter at 16 points a pound and margarine at six points, but canned peas dropped from three points to zero and carrots are reduced to three points from five for a No. 2 can. Tomato juice will be a point less in can sizes of 14 ounces or smaller. Canned fruits are being held at present high point values because supply continues short.

Commons Extends Churchill Eighth Confidence Vote

(By Associated Press)

LONDON, March 30.—Winston Churchill tonight won his eighth vote of confidence in four years, from a recalcitrant house of commons openly vexed at being called to mark over a minor domestic issue but ready to show its continued support of the government's overall program on the eve of a great new phase of Allied attack.

The division was 425 to 23—the prime minister's strongest showing since the first three virtually unanimous votes of confidence early in his leadership through the grim days of warfront reverses.

The house, packed with an urgently summoned turnout of government supporters, cheered until the old chamber rang as the vote was announced.

Churchill had won hands down as expected—won on a vote which he demanded to reverse his government's one-ballot defeat (117-116) Tuesday night on a government-opposed amendment providing equal pay for men and women teachers.

Churchill steadfastly refused to regard this as a domestic issue, and said he must have the support of the house all down the line or his government would resign.

Waste Paper Collections Short of Goal, WPB Says

CLEVELAND, March 30.—Collection of waste paper for war needs is falling "far short" of the 1944 goal, War Production board salvage managers were told today.

Herbert Faust, national salvage director, said at a national conference of regional chiefs here "people just don't realize where their waste paper goes, and how it is used directly in war production."

He said there were 700,000 war items either made of paper or packed in paper.

February collections in the nation totaled 540,000 tons, Faust said, "far short of the estimated goal of 667,000 tons a month needed to hit the 8,000,000 quota for the year."

Charges Lonergan Confession Forced

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK, March 30.—In a passionate appeal to save Wayne Lonergan from the electric chair, Defense Attorney Edward Broderick charged today that the young RCAF airman had been double-crossed, tricked and cheated by members of the district attorney's office and police.

Picturing the 26-year-old defendant as a "carefree country boy who found himself in the big league," Broderick declared at the general sessions court trial that Lonergan was plied with liquor for hours to get him to confess that he battered and choked his heiress wife, Patricia, to death last Oct. 24.

"He was not only drunk when he was brought into the district attorney's office but he was kept drunk," the defense attorney shouted.

Doors to the courtroom were locked and no spectators or newspapermen were allowed to enter or leave during his address on the orders of Judge James G. Garrett.

Broderick unloosed the trial's biggest surprise when he abruptly terminated his case in general sessions court yesterday after calling only three witnesses, none of whom made any attempt to tear down the chain of evidence forged by the state.

The stolid, 26-year-old defendant did not testify.

Although Broderick, in preliminary maneuvers, had hinted at insanity, he concluded his case without offering any clear-cut defense plea.

Find Girl's Body In Dump

Brutally beaten and stabbed to death, Joyce Raulston, 14, was found lying on her back in a Detroit dump. The girl had been missing from her home for several days. Her bloodstained hands and torn fingernails indicated she had struggled furiously with her assailant. Photo shows the girl's body being removed.

STUBENVILLE, March 30.—Four Jefferson county men have been added to the war casualty list, two soldiers being killed in action and two airmen listed as missing. Sgt. Alfred R. German Ace Downed LONDON, March 30.—The German high command acknowledged today the loss of one of its greatest aces, Col. Wilke, in an air battle presumably with British or American fliers over western Europe.

GERMAN WHISTLE REFUSED TO BLOW

MILWAUKEE—A story of the German-made locomotive whistle that remained "true to the Kaiser" was recalled here on Armistice day by John Dotsch, sergeant in the 21st engineers at the close of World War I.

Dotsch corralled one German whistle and two of the American variety, with which he planned to celebrate the impending Armistice. Rigging the whistles to his power plant, he was prepared to observe cessation of hostilities.

When the Armistice finally was declared, Dotsch triumphantly set off to whistles, but to his dismay, only two—the American whistles—worked.

"Well, sir," relates Dotsch, "that German whistle must have still been in control of the Kaiser. It never did make a sound, while the others blew for nearly three hours."

Liquor Sales Lower

BETHANY, Mo. — A Harrison county, Missouri, citizen probably knew what he was talking about when he wrote back home for a duplicate of his draft registration card recently. He said he had lost his original card, had been charged as an alleged draft dodger, and had been "helled" in jail since.

THE RED CARNATION by BURTON STEVENSON

CHAPTER TWENTY

What was the big idea? Duffy asked. "I don't know—about half past one, I guess." "So you went back to the apartment? Did anybody see you?" "No. The doorman was nowhere about and I waited till the elevator started up to answer a call. Then I slipped in and started up the stairs." "You didn't want to be seen, then?" "Of course not! I was going to kill him." "All right. Tell us how you did it." "I tell you I didn't kill him," Terry protested. "Thus far he had told his story with remarkable self-control but now he began to halt and stumble." (Tony, glancing at Leda, saw that she was watching her brother with face deadly pale, her hands clenched in her lap. The idea flashed through his mind that now the boy was coming to a part of the story which he and his sister had rehearsed together, and realized that he must go carefully.) "Well, get on with it," said Duffy. His urbanity had left him. His voice was rough, his face grim. Perhaps he, too, suspected that the boy was planning to conceal something. "I—I went up the stairs," Terry continued. "I took my time. I saw that it was going to be harder to do than I had expected. I didn't meet anybody. I got up to the sixth floor. I was just high enough on the stairs to see the door of McKibben's apartment—610 was the number—and I stopped to get hold of myself. While I stood there, leaning against the wall, the door opened and a man came out. He had a letter in his hand. He didn't have any hat or overcoat on, and he left the door ajar, so I knew it must be McKibben and that he was just going to drop the letter in the mail chute. I slipped across the hall and through the door. There was a light in the entry of his apartment and in the first room, which was a bedroom. The next room was dark and I turned into it. I thought I would hide till McKibben came back. I saw it was another bedroom, and I sat down on the bed, got out my revolver and waited." "Franklin Terry was shivering now and speaking so thickly that he could scarcely be understood." "What were you waiting for?" asked the detective. "I thought maybe it would be better if I waited till he undressed. Because I was shaking and had to get hold of myself. I heard him come back in and shut the door. He went into his bedroom, and then I heard him say something—and then there was a shot and a heavy fall." "And I suppose you ran away?" Duffy inquired ironically. "I jumped up and started for the door and fell over something—I don't know what—but I went down on my knees. I thought maybe I'd be shot, too, and I waited a minute more. I can't tell you any more."

Duffy took a deep breath and got to his feet. "Let's have some light," he said and went over to the door and snapped on the switch. Then he sat down again and looked at Tony. "What do you think of it so far?" he asked.

"It seems to make sense. It hitches up with what we already know."

"I'm not so sure," the detective declared. "Too many coincidences, if you ask me."

"They do happen," Tony pointed out.

"Yes, but I always wonder whether they haven't been arranged. And there are one or two things..."

He stopped abruptly and rolled his cigar to the other side of his mouth, as he always did when he was disturbed about something. He was looking at Leda Terry, slipped forward in her chair as though she had no strength left in her body, staring at her brother, a wrinkle of perplexity between her eyes.

"All right, sister," said Duffy abruptly. "Let's have your story."

The words brought Leda upright in her chair. In an instant, the doubt and perplexity in her face were wiped away. There was not the slightest trace of fear in her eyes as she looked at Duffy, but there was a great weariness.

Leda began her story in a voice low but clear. She had been so shocked by her father's death and by the police investigation which followed it that she had gone to her room to lie down as soon as her brother had been driven away in the corner car, and almost at once had dropped into a sleep of utter exhaustion. Lucy had finally come to her bed and waked her.

SPARE STAMP NO. 37 FOR CANNING SUGAR

Consumers who are applying or planning to apply to their local War Price and Rationing boards for home canning sugar were reminded today by the District Office of Price Administration that the stamp to be enclosed from War Ration Book 4 is Spare Stamp No. 37, not Sugar Stamp 37.

William A. Maynard, District Rationing Executive, said many boards were receiving the wrong stamp and that this would delay action on the application. He also pointed out that it was not necessary to make application immediately since the canning season will not start for many weeks.

All consumers are now entitled to purchase five pounds of canning sugar with Sugar Stamp No. 49. If additional canning sugar is needed, an application form should be obtained from the local board. Names of all persons in the household for whom application is being made should be listed on the form and it should be mailed back to the board with Spare Stamp No. 37 from the book of each person attached.

$10,258 IN COUNTY FINDINGS REPORTED

Only Technical Errors Are Listed In State Audit Of 2-Year Period

LISBON, March 30. — Ninety-eight findings involving $10,258.37 were returned in a state examiner's report of an audit of the county offices covering a period from Aug. 1, 1941, to April 12, 1943.

The findings, revealed in today's report, were technical and did not involve any showing of criminal intent. In most instances payments and adjustments have been made as recommended.

Among the findings returned were 22 against Columbiana county and in favor of cities and villages and the county law library association, totalling $7,064.99. The items represented sums erroneously withheld from the subdivisions from the classified tax collections in May and October of 1942, and were paid by Auditor I. J. Vorndran shortly after he took office in March, 1943.

The minimum of technical findings is attributed by county officials to the economic requisition purchase system adopted by the county in the operation of its government two years ago.

While the report as a whole commended all officials, special attention was called to the office of prosecuting attorney, in which Frank W. Springer is lauded for the careful and conservative use made of public money, in which it was pointed out that Prosecutor Springer expended by $730.23 for the years 1941 and 1942, as compared to $1,998.75 spent by his predecessor in the year 1940.

ZARIEF QUADS

His only comment was: "Now I'll have a new brother to play with." The grandmother of the quadruplets, Mrs. Isidore Miller, of Newark, N. J., said Teddy was unimpressed by the impending event but casually turned it to good use several months ago.

He was late to school, she said, and explained to his teacher that he had to help his mother put her shoes on "because she was expecting quadruplets." The teacher told Mrs. Miller later she thought Teddy must be an unusual, imaginative child because, although she had heard almost every excuse for tardiness, quadruplets was a brand new one.

2,800 Are Idle At Lorain Shipyards

LORAIN, March 30.—Rejecting a War Labor board back-to-work request, approximately 2,800 AFL craftsmen remained idle at the American Ship Building Co.'s Lorain yards today, as company officials reported work of fitting out and completing a number of small war craft was at a standstill.

Lorain authorities said about 300 employees were "milling around" the yard gates when the first shift was due to enter, but added there was no organized picketing and no violence.

A request that the men return to their jobs and that the dispute be settled through channels provided in company-union contracts was made by the Regional War Labor board at Cleveland in telegrams to union leaders.

The stoppage reportedly involved some 12 AFL craft unions, said to be protesting discharge of several electricians in a dispute over wage rates.

Federal Conciliator Thomas W. Robertson said electrical workers were demanding an 11-cent hourly premium for men assigned to test electrical equipment of new vessels, but both the company and the union declined comment on the dispute.

Post-War Agriculture Stabilization Mapped

COLUMBUS, March 30.—Ohio farm leaders today were agreed on a program to stabilize the state's agriculture industry in the critical postwar period.

The program, drafted by farm leaders serving as members of the Ohio postwar agriculture planning committee, urges continued government aid to farmers after hostilities end, establishment of more farm co-operatives, discussion of postwar problems by farm, labor and industry leaders and working for conditions which will keep the small farmer in business despite a trend toward huge farm operations.

Stop Awhile--And Smile

(By Associated Press)

WHERE IS MY WANDERING BUS TONIGHT?

TOPEKA, Kas.—A bus marked "West Tenth Street" turned off on West Tenth and the passengers scrambled for exits, believing they had boarded the wrong bus. The driver looked around. "Say," he said, "is this Eighth? My mistake: I just got off the beam." So the passengers settled back while the bus wandered around until it was back on course.

RATION-WISE PUP

SPURNS MEAT

HAYS, Kas.—Since dogs do not eat rats, nor many other vegetables as a general rule, the case of Tippy, a 9-month-old terrier, is well worth chronicling. Neighbors of the owner, Isadore R. Schmidt, were amazed to see Tippy nibbling at cabbage, raw carrots and other vegetables that happened to be available. "Tippy just won't eat meat," says Schmidt. "It's vegetables or no nothing."

MARINE TAUNTS LEAVE AN MP COCONUT

SOLOMON ISLANDS.—Nature has an antipersonnel bomb that can drive you nuts in these islands—the coconut.

Falling from a 50-foot tree, as they often do in rain or wind, coconuts land with the impact of a well-hit golf ball. But surprisingly few American fighting men are hit by them.

Pvt. Eugene K. Lampkin, an MP from Cincinnati, is an exasperated exception. He was directing military traffic on Bougainville. "Why can't you join a good outfit?" asked a passing truck load of marines.

Just as this retort landed, so did three coconuts, he reported, one hitting him smack on the head.

HARDLY A BANK TO BANK ON

SOMERSET, Pa.—Police would like to find out who owns the Somerset bank building and who has been stealing it brick by brick. The building, condemned last fall by the government for a flood control project, was sold to a man who took out the plumbing and electric fixtures. Further wrecking rights were purchased by a club which removed about half the brick for its new clubhouse before winter set in. Ready to continue the razing, members found someone had taken all the marble slabs. Then it was discovered that the government contract stipulated all the salvage had to be within 30 days.

TOO ORIGINAL, NO DOUBT

CAMP MACKALL, N. C.—A captain agreed to stretch the furlough of the soldier who sent in the most original telegram asking for an extension.

Pvt. George DeBritten wired in this one:

"No one sick, no one died, just having good time, like extension, answer collect."

The captain wired: "Suspense killing me. 'Hurry back and tell me about it.'"

CASSINO SEQUEL

Stimson followed up his blunt acknowledgment that the Germans stopped the Allies at Cassino with this statement:

"That would be a severe setback only if we did not profit from our lessons. We have learned a great many things since the war and we have put our learning into practice. There is no reason to believe that our ability to profit from experience has ended now."

The secretary also reminded reporters that "no one made this a test of Allied power or suggested that in these operations we are concentrating our main strength."

He recalled that at the start of the Cassino attack he had said "very real military objectives have already been achieved in the Italian campaign and the results will progressively aid us in the days ahead." He listed the reopening of the Mediterranean, the knocking out of Italy as an Axis partner, the capture of the Italian fleet, the attainment of the Italian air bases for use against the Nazis in southern Europe and Germany, and the tying up of 19 German divisions in actual combat and others in northern Italy which could have been used against Russia or for augmenting German defenses elsewhere.

"I say this," Stimson said, "not to minimize the obvious facts of the Cassino action but to keep that action in a proper perspective. Despite Cassino, the final chapter of the story has not yet unfolded."

O. P. A. CLOSES FIVE MORE GAS STATIONS

YOUNGSTOWN, March 30.—Five more Youngstown district gasoline dealers were ordered to suspend business for having counterfeit coupons in their possession. They are:

Gus Bukas, Poland, O., suspended two months but will be permitted to sell six weeks on probation.

Thomas Fittick, Campbell, one month but permitted to sell last three weeks on probation.

Margaret Moore, Campbell, two months.

William Creps, R. D. 1, Masury, one month.

William Imboden, Youngstown, six months.

Charges against Joe Catone, Struthers, were dismissed when Catone said he had done everything possible to avoid having counterfeit coupons even dismissing two employees. He had 100 counterfeit coupons of 281 counted, but these amounted to only eight per cent of his business.

The War Today

borite Emanuel Shinwell to make clear "that so far as Europe is concerned we could not allow our foreign policy to be wholly dictated by the United States." Eden of course said that "there is absolutely no suggestion of that." We Yanks have been cocking an eyebrow and asking some questions about Britain, too, for that matter.

So the people of Britain are concerned. And why not, when the welfare of their entire empire is so deeply involved? What they really are demanding, and undoubtedly still continue to demand, is information and not necessarily a change of basic policies—of which they know comparative little.

Do you know why bombing is more terrifying than artillery fire? Well, it's because the bombs come at you willy-nilly, without any fixed source, while you know exactly the direction from which the gun-fire comes. The shells are dangerous, but you can at least face your menace squarely.

That's the way it is with unexplained politics.

BURMA BATTLE

tutoring by Gen. Stillwell's Americans.

In the Pacific Allied airmen steadily pounded away at favorite targets such as Rabaul on New Britain and went on to pick out a new objective, Pakin island. Pakin, hit for the first time Monday, is just 18 miles northwest of Ponape—which would make a good base, in American hands, for the reduction of powerful Truk to the west. Ponape has itself been struck ever harder air blows in recent weeks.

Ninety-three tons of bombs fell on Rabaul, destroying 39 buildings. (Tokyo radio conceded "enemy raids on Rabaul are becoming more persistent," and said 335 planes attacked in two days this week.)

The wide range of the air attacks took allied airmen westward to Hollandia on the north coast of Dutch New Guinea, and to Timor in the Dutch East Indies, an area long under complete Japanese dominion.

Butchers Hog, Fined

YOUNGSTOWN, March 30.—Earl C. Woodring, 44, of Youngstown, was fined $500, later reduced to $100, and given a suspended jail sentence of 60 days when he appeared in municipal court this morning and pleaded guilty to charges of violating the city's black market ordinance.

Police Prosecutor J. Maynard Dickerson said Woodring was charged with selling a butchered hog without collecting ration points.

INDOOR PRACTICES ARE BENEFICIAL TO DEGREE, FRICK SAYS

National League President Stops at Muncie, Ind., to Visit With Pirates

(By Associated Press) NEW YORK, March 30.—While major league managers are moaning, "who said ball teams never will train in the south again?" President Ford Frick of the National league can find a little sunshine in the clouds.

Stopping off in a snowstorm at Muncie, Ind., to visit the Pittsburgh Pirates, Frick pointed out that all clubs were suffering equally from bad weather.

"The players are deriving certain physical benefits by holding indoor exercises and hoping for a streak of sunshine," he commented. "I realize, however, it's impossible to judge by what the athletes do in the gym just how they will stack up in actual baseball conditions."

Physical Manager Frankie Frisch might have been inclined to ask what are those "certain physical benefits" as he cancelled today's scheduled exhibition with the Freeman field team and prepared to head for Louisville, Ky., for a day of practice before weekend exhibitions against the Chicago White Sox.

News from other big league camps: NEW YORK YANKEES—George Weiss, Yanks' farm system boss, was due to visit camp today.

Likes Braves Hurler BOSTON BRAVES—After watching Nate Andrews pitch for batting practice, Manager Bob Coleman concluded he's due to be a 20-game winner.

BOSTON RED SOX—With seven absences, Joe Cronin was concerned about two, Oscar Judd, from Canada and Tom McBride from Little Rock, Ark. Others believed delayed by travel difficulties from west coast.

CHICAGO CUBS—Pitcher Paul Derringer is nursing a sprained ankle.

CHICAGO WHITE SOX—Jimmy Dykes named Thornton Lee, Bill Dietrich and Orval Grove to pitch Saturday's exhibition against Pittsburgh.

NEW YORK GIANTS—Whereabouts of infielder Hugh Luby, who hasn't been heard from since he was supposed to have left San Francisco March 23, provided a rainy-day puzzle.

BROOKLYN DODGERS—Hold-out Angel Galan was expected in camp today.

ST. LOUIS CARDS—Billy Southworth ordered longer workouts and full nine-inning games at every opportunity.

PHILADELPHIA ATHLETICS—Connie Mack is wondering what has become of Bobo Newsom, who hasn't been heard from since training camp opened.

DETROIT TIGERS—Paul Richards, 1943 first string catcher, has been rejected by Army because of old knee injury and will report with Pinky Higgins Sunday.

Kasimierz or Kazimiera, according to sex, is the compulsory name for all illegitimate children now born in Poland.

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR. NEW YORK, March 30.—Giving some consideration, no doubt, to Utah's success in the N. C. A. A. cage tournament, Wyoming is planning to resume basketball next season with Ev Shelton returning to his old job as coach. And Colorado likely will follow suit if the army vacates the field house. Real hard luck guy of the hardwood is Neal Harris, Albright college coach. He worked all season tutoring an 18-year-old, six-foot, 8½ freshman for stardom next year—drilling him to become a "goal tender"—and now the rules makers have wiped out a season's labor. Juan Zarita, N. B. A. lightweight champ who fights Beau Jack tomorrow, holds an amateur fliers license and has had 100 hours of solo flying.

The Bowlers Victory legion has purchased 200,000 decks of cards, 133,000 books and 17,000 fishing kits for men in the armed forces. . . . The Philly Eagles report hearing from a football prospect who is 4-F "because I have only one eye, a few bad teeth, a bad nose, flat feet and a bad knee." If his name ever leaks out, the Eagles fear the rush of rival clubs to sign the guy will be terrific. . . . Freddie Sommers, who once managed Cleo Shans for Olsen and Johnson, reports Milton Berle has offered $5,000 for a half interest in Lightweight Mike Della. . . . Wonder why he always picks on comedians? . . . Rochester U., which apparently liked its taste of big-time football last fall, is looking for a "name" coach to replace Bud De Groot, at a fancy salary.

Tommy Loughran, former light heavyweight champion now a physical instructor at the Philadelphia Navy yard, has been promoted to staff sergeant in the Marines. And Jack Dempsey has been upped to commander in the coast guard.

Lambert Redd, former Bradley Tech broad jumper, has returned to the United States after flying 187 sorties against the Japs. . . . After one look at the remodeled Tome school baseball field, the ex-big leaguers at the Bainbridge, Md., Naval training station hollered "uncle" and Athletic Officer Lieut. Hardy Pierce went about building some fences only 330 to 400 feet from the plate. . . . Capt. Chuck Fenske of Truxfield, Wis., who held the indoor mile record until Gil Dodds busted it, thinks that Dodds could do better than his 4:06.4 with more attention to his pace. "Dodds has developed a habit of getting out there and unwinding like a clock," says Chuck.

Sun Beau Drops Dead BINGHAMTON, N. Y., March 30.—Sun Beau, world's greatest money-winning thoroughbred race horse from 1931 to 1940, died suddenly today at a stud farm in Doo-well, Va.

The 19-year-old bay mare earned $376,744 for his owner, the late Willis Sharpe Kilmer of Binghamton.

Ohio, Indiana High School Cage Teams Have Equal Rating

(By Associated Press) COLUMBUS, March 30.—As a finale to the 1943-44 season, a Hoosier begs leave to submit a comparative report on Ohio's High school basketball tournament teams and those in Indiana.

The question—"how does Ohio basketball compare with that in Indiana?"—has been asked this correspondent more than any other since we arrived in Ohio and probably the best answer was given last Saturday night by an Ohioan who replied to his own query.

"They probably have more really good teams in Indiana than in Ohio but I don't imagine there is any difference among those few that eventually finish at or close to the top," he said.

That looks like the best answer. If this gets back to Indiana we probably won't be able to go there even for a visit but if the four teams which played in the final tournament here last Saturday were to play the four which reached the finals of the Indiana tournament we wouldn't bet a dime either way.

And particularly we wouldn't even consider betting against Middletown's Ohio State champs.

Sees Little Difference If there was any difference between the type of basketball played last Saturday by Middletown or Toledo Woodward and that of which Indiana likes to boast as "the best in the world," then old eyes failed to detect it.

Last Saturday Martins Ferry didn't look like it belonged in a final state tournament but we've seen times in Indiana—last year for example—when a team reached the finals and looked as if it didn't have any business in a championship event.

But that always will happen in a tournament. Sometimes a really good team gets the "buck" in a final tournament and sometimes a soft preliminary competition will let a weak team reach the finals.

Either could have been the case with Martins Ferry.

However, if Messrs. H. R. Townsend of Ohio and A. L. Trester of Indiana would just let Middletown play House of Evansville, the Indiana champ, and Toledo Woodward play Kokomo, the Indiana runner-up, this humble observer would be willing to pay his own way to see it and wouldn't think of hazarding a guess on the outcome.

International Beagle Unit Plans Annual Meeting Here

One hundred and seventy-two Beagle hounds, the "cream of the crop" in United States and Canadian sportsmen's circles, will compete when the International Beagle federation holds its annual meeting here April 11 to 16th, inclusive.

This was announced today by A. D. Milligan of Youngstown, chairman of arrangements for the event who is seeking housing facilities for the dog owners who will attend the six-day program.

Site of the Beagle trials will be several thousand-acre tract of land at Ellsworth, owned by the Mahoning-Trumbull Beagle club, which is host for this year's meeting. Its clubhouse is situated on Gault road, near Ellsworth.

Milligan said that between 350 and 400 persons would attend the meeting throughout the week.

The 172 dogs entered are those which qualified in association championships in 14 states and Canada. The Beagles will come from New York and states as far south as the Carolinas and as far west as Kansas, Milligan said. Canadian dogs also have been registered.

On Saturday evening, April 15, owners of the animals will meet at the Lape hotel and elect officers for the year. The meeting last year was held at Greenfield, near Washington Court house. It was last held here seven years ago.

Indians Continue Their Indoor Practice Grinds LAFAYETTE, Ind., March 30.—Lou Boudreau's departure for Harvey, Ill., yesterday started rumors in the Cleveland Indians' camp that the manager had been summoned by his draft board, but the Tribe pilot declared he was going home because one of his children was sick.

The Indians again were forced to work out indoors because of bad weather. Mel Harder and Allie Reynolds, last of the pitchers to report, took long turns throwing to the hitters in the indoor batting cages and said their arms felt fine.

ARE YOUR TIRES SMOOTH?

When the non-skid pattern on your tires disappears and you're riding on a smooth surface—it's time to check with our recapping experts! Not all tires can be successfully recapped—if the side-walls are bruised or if the carcass is damaged by improper inflation the tire may not be worth recapping! But our mechanics can tell you if your tires are in line for more mileage—if you are giving them the proper care—and they can do an expert job of recapping! Truck and pleasure car tires expertly recapped.

On What's Going On In Capital

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, March 30—Congress today struck the note that will attune the ears of more than a million 4-F's to the arpeggio notes of a trumpet, the crow of the cock or a war plane's call to work. A house military subcommittee began drafting legislation to surround these men, between the ages of 18 and 37, with statutory controls which would offer them the choice between essential jobs and army labor battalions.

POLITICS
There were indications today that the setback which the Republican party received in the Oklahoma congressional election may shift the GOP attack from the administration's domestic record to its foreign policy.

Sen. Wherry (R-Nebr.) asserted, on the heels of the Democratic victory in Oklahoma that the administration's "vacillating and vague" foreign program would become of paramount concern to the voters before November.

HOME FOR A SAILOR'S KIN
Congress is hurrying to the rescue of sailors' families who want to be in port with their men during stopovers between battle actions but can't find a place to live.

The senate has completed action on a $1,644,373.04 naval shore works bill authorizing temporary housing for transient personnel and their dependents. Occupancy on a rental basis would be limited to 60 days.

Excess Token Change Is Not Necessary Now

Major relief for the 13,000 food retailers and the million housewives of northeastern Ohio from some of the burdens of food rationing will result from the removal of expiration dates from the red and blue ration stamps. It was pointed out today by the District Office of Price Administration.

The difficulty of keeping track of overlapping expiration dates has been eliminated under the plan which makes red and blue stamps in War Ration Book 4 good indefinitely. OPA said. Advance notice will be given if it is found necessary to retire any food stamps.

There is no change in the rate at which stamps become good. Housewives may continue to budget the family purchases of rationed foods on the basis of three red stamps, worth a total of 30 points every second Sunday, and five blue stamps worth a total of 50 points, the first of each month.

Furthermore, there will be no incentive for housewives to change their about-to-expire ration stamps into indefinitely valid tokens and thus deplete the merchant's supply of this ration small change.
